TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE [illegible] 18[illegible]

Slave Trade Treaty

Our government has recently made a treaty with Great Britain for the purpose of more effectually stopping the slave trade. This slave trade treaty authorizes the commanders of the vessels of each nation specially commissioned for the purpose, to board and search merchant vessels of the other nation, [illegible] on a reasonable presumption that such vessel is engaged in the slave trade, subject to the payment of damages for the loss and detention arising from mistakes. Any one of the following marks are to constitute a presumption and authority for seizure: Vessels with hatches with open gratings, an unusual number of bulkheads, spars, planks for the second or slave deck, manacles, an unusual quantity of water and water casks, mess tubs, cooking apparatus, provisions and [illegible], beyond what is necessary for the crew, [illegible] in manifest as part of the cargo. The treaty constitutes three mixed courts of justice, consisting of citizens of both countries—Sierra Leone, the Cape of Good Hope, and New York—for the adjudication of vessels seized. The Captains, crews and owners are to be tried according to the laws of the country to which the vessels belong.

Thus, while some of our pro-slavery papers are insisting on the great benefits of the slave trade to the slaves themselves and the whites they serve, the governments of the United States and Great Britain are perfecting arrangements to put a stop to this "CIVILIZING, CHRISTIANIZING and HUMANIZING" measure spoken of by the late secesh party in Oregon.

From our Salmon River Correspondent

LETTER NO. II.

WALLA WALLA, June 9, 1862.

"Ay now am I in Arden; the more fool I; when I was at home I was in a better place; but travelers must be content."—As you Like it.

I sent you a few lines from the Dalles and left that place on the morning of the [illegible] in one of the fine Concord coaches now running from there to Deschutes. There is a portage at the Dalles of sixteen miles—fare three dollars. The morning was hot and dusty, and we walked up hills as our coach had sixteen passengers—"ins and outs," and yet the ride was not particularly disagreeable. Indeed, a body may be packed through the world with reasonable comfort, if a body will keep a body's temper, and throw grumbling to the dogs. The Oregon Steam Navigation Company are constructing a railroad from the Dalles to the Deschutes, [illegible] and a half miles in length—hugging the river, and to be a first class road. A large amount of work has been done on the road, but as it cannot be finished for this season's business the work is not being pushed now.

The Trail is used, and is [illegible] down for perhaps two miles from the Dalles, and the road, unlike the one at the Cascades—looks as the children say, like a [illegible] road. Some of the track is under water and some of the small bridges have a [illegible] and unsubstantial look. If it be true "What ever is worth doing is worth doing well," certainly to no subject could the truth be more applicable than the construction of railroads. It is estimated the road will cost $500,000, but when the [illegible] cost perhaps will be nearer a million than half million.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE COLUMBIA RIVER TO [illegible]

In passing up the Columbia, a feeling of regret is experienced that this noble river should be broken up into so many falls and impediments to its navigation so numerous and serious. To say nothing of its numerous rapids, which, though dangerous obstacles, are yet passable, the falls both at the Cascades and the Dalles render navigation impossible and transhipping necessary. Now as not a passenger or pound of freight can go up or down the river without going over these portages it will be seen that whoever own these portages beyond a doubt holds the keys to the commerce of this river, and if unrestrained may impose a heavy tax as they please on all goods passing over these portages. The commerce is [illegible] in its infancy. If our gold fields fulfill [illegible] the trade on this river will speedily assume large proportions, and even at the most unfavorable view of our mines they will be extensive enough to support a very considerable population, to which must be added the agricultural resources of the upper country, which are considerable, so that in all events the trade of the Columbia must grow [illegible] O. S. N. Co. are getting these portages in their hands, and while the Company is enterprising and may deserve success—exclusive privileges should be cautiously granted and with proper guarantees and protection to public rights and interests.

FROM DESCHUTES TO WALLA WALLA

You take the upper river boat at Deschutes—so called from a river by that name here flowing into the Columbia. The Tenino was [illegible] but we delayed until [illegible] o'clock p. m. for the officers of the boat who had gone over to the Dalles to attend the funeral of the engineer of the boat. I note briefly the points on the river from Deschutes to Walula. You strike first the "Five Mile Rapids," eleven miles farther the "John Day Rapids"—so called after a small river by that name on the Oregon side, [illegible] miles "the Indian Rapids," three miles, the "Squally Hook Rapids," six miles, "Rock Creek Rapids," six miles, "Chapman's Wood Yard," where [illegible] we tied up for the night owing to the dangers of night navigation. Fifteen miles to "Canoe Encampment Rapids," six miles to [illegible] Island, which is about nine miles long, seven miles to "Grande Ronde Landing," where Cain and Hill have a log store and which is said to be the nearest river point to the Powder River diggings; six miles to "Umatilla Rapids," three miles long with a fall of fifteen feet, twenty miles to Walula City, formerly old Fort Walla Walla. [illegible] John Days and the Umatilla rapids are the [illegible] of the [illegible], and they all, especially in low water, render the navigation difficult and dangerous. The scenery is not interesting—the country entirely destitute of timber [illegible] hills, and at times bold rocky [illegible] and [illegible] with a [illegible] country [illegible] the eye sweeps over a large area, and the [illegible] but [illegible] the river worth but little for agricultural purposes.

[illegible] SKETCHES, &C.

We had about one hundred and [illegible] passengers, and as the travel now goes to Lewiston, one hundred and three were booked for that place, and a dozen for this point. We had all sorts of folks, of [illegible]. There was a fellow on board six feet [illegible] and weighing [illegible] two hundred and sixty lbs. [illegible] for the [illegible]. He will make [illegible] [illegible] blue eyes, and grey eyes and black eyes—and a [illegible] of [illegible] hue—snub noses and some "Grecian," some "Roman," some turned up and some down, and some stubborn [illegible] noses that just would not turn at all—and not to go through the catalogue, I may add that it is precisely this variety in looks and character that gives interest to traveling, and makes the world as passable as it is, and yet people sometimes "turn up" their noses because somebody isn't fashioned just as they are, or as [illegible] they admire, as though nature was an old fool, and before turning her work off from her plastic hands should go to them to learn upon what order of architecture her works should be fashioned—whether Tom should have the "Doric" touch, and Dick the "Ionic," or Kate should be modeled from the "Corinthian" order.

A WORD ABOUT WALLULA CITY

This point, where we leave the river, is 110 miles from Des Chutes. It was formerly old Fort Walla Walla, but is no longer a government post,—and is now the shipping place for Walla Walla and the trade of the interior places. Vansyckle & Patton own the place, have a store and hotel, and are coining money. They are both clever dogs, and everybody is pleased to see them prosper, and they will give you the best meal you will get east of the Cascades. Stores are being sold, and an effort made to build up a town.

A stage ride in a fine "Concord coach," of thirty miles brings you to this place. I will send you some items about the town in my next, and in conclusion, as the preacher says, I send you some mining items.

POWDER RIVER MINES

These diggings are about 100 miles from here. Kirkpatrick & Co.—three or four being in the company, are said to be making about $70 per day, and a fellow named Gordon just down from there says he made about $10 per day till he sold his claim, while other reports from there are unfavorable. Teams are leaving here nearly every day for these diggings, and we have seen dust here in several hands from Powder river. It is coarser and richer than the Oro Fino or Salmon dust.

ORO FINO MINES

A Mr. W. T. Bassett, who is known in Portland, and is just from these mines, says the men there are just getting to work, and some of the claims are paying rich and many of them well. A quarter interest in a claim sold for $2,500, and a half interest in the same claim soon after this sale sold for $6,000 in cash. It is the opinion of many that the Oro Fino diggings will be the most permanent we will have.

SALMON RIVER MINES

Capt. Simms, who is the Councilman from this district and a reliable man, is just down from Florence, and he says there are now about 8,000 men in the "Salmon diggings." About 1,000 claims are worked by about 5,000 persons. That he estimates the amount of dust taken out daily at from $50,000 to $100,000,—that some of the claims are very rich to his knowledge, as one man who formerly worked for him, took out of the "three [illegible] and Smith claim," sixty ounces and a half in one day, and that his average for a number of days was from fifteen to twenty ounces; that new diggings were well authenticated were reported about 85 miles south of Florence city, and that five or six hundred had left for the new diggings,—that new diggings were reported between Florence and Elk City, and he saw packers who had been prospecting the forks of Salmon, who had made about 18 cents to the pan. Simms says he saw others who had been prospecting and were unsuccessful. He thinks there will be other rich diggings discovered in that country, and says some of the old miners there think the richest gulches at Salmon will be worked out in about two months.—I give you these items as they are from a reliable and candid source.

The [illegible] about the mines are various and sometimes amusing. One man says, the diggings up here are the richest in the world, and that we all can make our "piles," while another person expressed himself after this fashion: "Well, sir, the sum and substance of the whole matter is the mines are a d—d humbug. Some pay good, and a great many don't, and some very few pay rich—that's the way I put it up. Lawyers, keepers and teamsters and boat folks and such like tell of folks coming home rich, but darn me if I see any. I saw two loads of dust at Portland which they said was from Salmon,—and my fat mess'll get home poor; but the [illegible] are all going, and I am a fool and run with them."

So you see a body must go and look for himself. I leave here in a day or so and will write you from Lewiston. OBSERVER

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING. — A [illegible] meeting of the citizens of Portland was held in the council room last evening [illegible] was to devise ways and means [illegible] public celebration of the approaching anniversary of American Independence. On motion of Mr Mitchell Mr [illegible] was called to the Chair and Mr [illegible] appointed Secretary.

On motion of Dr [illegible] a committee [illegible] consisting of Messrs J. H. Mitchell [illegible] Williams and H. W. Davis were appointed to act as a Finance Committee, with [illegible] powers to call upon the citizens [illegible] to obtain subscriptions [illegible] &c., to defray the expenses of the celebration.

On motion of Mr [illegible] arrangements [illegible] of the citizens were [illegible] consideration [illegible].

J. H. Mitchell was called upon [illegible] and said that he was [illegible] the Fourth, high water [illegible] sentiment was [illegible] audience. A motion was then put and carried unanimously that the city [illegible] and will celebrate [illegible] the approaching Fourth of July.

On motion of Mr Mitchell [illegible] three from each ward [illegible] was a committee [illegible] of the following [illegible]:

Ward — Capt [illegible] R. Thompson.

Ward — G. H. William [illegible] Webber.

Ward — J. H. Mitchell [illegible] McCormick.

On motion of Mr Garrison [illegible] at a previous meeting [illegible] county at large [illegible] L. Quimby and Dr [illegible] the committee of arrangements [illegible].

On motion, the meeting [illegible] are requested to announce that the committee of arrangements will [illegible] at [illegible] this afternoon in the council room. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

ARRIVAL OF THE JULIA. — The steamer Julia arrived last evening about 7 o'clock, bringing [illegible] from the Dalles to 10th and [illegible] to 14th. The Columbia [illegible] at the Dalles in 10 hours [illegible] Cascades and 4 inches at Vancouver. [illegible] river had risen 7 feet at Lewiston on [illegible] Friday morning and was still rising when messenger left. The [illegible] was still standing, except the portion which had been washed away [illegible] days ago. [illegible] dwelling is [illegible] to have washed away, and several [illegible] are in imminent danger. [illegible] brought down about 100 passengers and [illegible] pounds of gold dust [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co., and an equal amount [illegible] of passengers.

[illegible] — We desire to correct [illegible] yesterday morning [illegible] that little or no effort was made [illegible] police to arrest Lincoln who [illegible] at Taylor's Restaurant last Friday [illegible]. It is due to Mr Brannan the [illegible] who was upon that beat [illegible] that we know he did all that he [illegible] to ascertain the whereabouts or in [illegible] Lincoln might be found. We [illegible] the spot a few moments after the [illegible] and saw Mr Brannan [illegible] had been sent in several directions [illegible] search and we have [illegible] this search was kept up all night [illegible] success, as Lincoln evidently had friends who assisted him to make his [illegible]. The Times is good on the [illegible] reliable as to facts.

[illegible] — We saw a [illegible] plunge off a [illegible] plank [illegible] evening. "Whoosh [illegible] house." [illegible] how he blushed [illegible] wading out. He was black still [illegible] hence we conclude that the waters [illegible] Willamette are not so efficacious as [illegible] Siloam."

[illegible] OREGONIAN,

SIR: — I am happy to see that a [illegible] been held, and [illegible] some of the patriotic citizens of Portland the purpose of making the necessary [illegible] to celebrate our [illegible] national [illegible]. [illegible] according with the [illegible] of the American people [illegible] able and revert [illegible] and their [illegible] government and pay the [illegible] signature of American liberty. I feel [illegible] coming event is [illegible] worthy of our [illegible] ment, and [illegible] patriotic [illegible] commemorated [illegible] would have been with the greatest [illegible] that I noticed my name [illegible] of those appointed [illegible] to carry out the wishes [illegible] had it not been for [illegible] free to act with [illegible] been appointed [illegible] would celebrate the [illegible] Feb 18th 1861 with [illegible] than they would [illegible] of the birthday of [illegible] government they would [illegible] as they would [illegible] and who [illegible] would thwart [illegible] rebellion and defend our national [illegible].

Locked In!

OR, THE ACCIDENTAL INTERVIEW.

A MATRIMONIAL TALE.

"You forbid, indeed!" cried the wife, "and pray who are you that commands me. Why should I not mention that woman's — I beg pardon—lady's name? Who is to prevent me? Not her lover, sir," she continued, lashing herself into a rage, "when he has ceased to be my husband."

"By Jove!" said Thirlby, "this is as it used to be, but, as you say, we are separated;" and he bent his head over the table, and groaned: "For this and other mercies heaven makes us truly, truly thankful!"

Mrs. Thirlby tore the handkerchief from the scalded hand, and threw it across the table—the fragments of soap fell into the sugar basin.

"What a noble vengeance!" continued he in a pompous tone. "What gentleness! what magnanimity of soul! and what a brilliant re arteo! 'Pon my word, this is refreshing! What a meeting after ten years' absence! The breeze without, the row within. Any one could swear to us for man and wife!"

"Not your wife now, sir!"

"No, not my wife now. As I said a minute ago: for this and other mercies"—

The lady rose to her feet. "Do not insult me, sir," she said. "I have been at peace for ten years. Do not raise feelings that—that—"

"That what?" asked the husband.

Poor Mrs. Thirlby began to feel the effect of the motion of the vessel. "I—I—don't feel well" she gasped.

"Ah! excitement," said the husband, unconcernedly.

"No, sir, the son—I mean the tea. I shall go to my berth. When you get to Kingstown, you can see, Franky, and"—

"Franky! Who's Franky?" asked the husband.

Mrs. Thirlby looked him full in the face as she answered: "Your son, sir!"

Another lurch of the vessel threw Mr. Thirlby into a seat, as he repeated, "My son!" He hardly understood the meaning of the words.

"Your son and mine," said the lady, "my dear, dear boy Frank!"

Something rose to the husband's throat and eyes as he looked first up and then down at his long lost wife, as the position of the cabin floor hoisted or lowered her.

"He was born three months after your departure," continued Mrs. Thirlby.

"Why did I not know of it?"

"I kept it out of the papers purposely," said the wife.

"And you called him Francis?" said the now thoroughly humbled husband.

"Yes—after his father."

"Thank you, Maria, that was kind."

"My duty—nothing more," said the lady.

"How old is he?"

"Ten in August—on the fifth."

"God bless him!" said the father. "Is he handsome?"

"Oh! very, very handsome," said the mother.

"A—at all like me?" inquired the father.

"Like what you were—very."

"And in his manner?"

"He is passionate in the extreme; like what you were—very. Here is a letter I had from him last Thursday. He is on a visit to my cousin, who was married to Col. O'Grady three years ago."

The father took the letter and held it under the shaking lamp. The gale had blown itself into a storm, and he could hardly keep upon his feet as he read the large school-boy hand:

"MY DEAR, DEAR MAMMA: I am so glad that you are soon coming. I have no news. I am quite well. Freddy's pony hurt one of his knees yesterday. We go to Sandy Mount every day. Aunt sends her love—so does Freddy. God bless you!

Your affectionate FRANKIE.

Merryon Square, Dublin, Ireland."

The letter was read and re-read until the lines became blurred and indistinct, and a deep sob heaved up from the father's heart, as he stretched forth his hand to his wife, and said: "Maria, forgive me!"

Mrs. Thirlby remained silent and impassive.

"For the sake of our boy," he urged, "the child of whose existence I was unaware till—forgive me!"

"Do you wish to keep the letter?" inquired the wife.

"With your permission. Do you ever speak to him of me?"

"Often!"

"O, Maria, let us be friends!"

Mrs. Thirlby answered slowly and deliberately, with a pause between every third or fourth word: "After an absence—of more than ten years—meeting so unexpected—you could not control—your violent and sarcastic nature—I will not be its victim. Pardon what is past—but—when I leave this boat—we never meet again!"

"Maria"—he tried to take her hand, but she withdrew it—"can't you forgive me?"

"The past—yes; the future I will not trust in your hands. As I said, when we leave this boat"—

The stewardess entered the cabin suddenly by the stairs leading to the deck. The door was heard to lock behind her, and there was a noise overhead as of shutting and fastening. She staggered forward, and said in a low, calm, resigned, but trembling voice: "If you wish to pray, do so at once; we are expected to go down every minute!"

Thirlby looked at her for a minute, then taking his wife up in his arms, rushed to the cabin door.

"We are fastened down!" said the stewardess, with terrible calmness. "The crew is in the rigging. I shall go to my cabin and meet it there. Oh, pray for your soul's sake, for we have not long to live!" She went to her own little cabin at the side, and shut the door.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations, by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the greatest class,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Sight, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however longstanding, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines used are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-Abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by long years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the States, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of those of the sufferers from the [illegible] of disease, who having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude, made known their cases and remedies [illegible]. All these statements are authenticated by a Notary Public [illegible] and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate. The undersigned [illegible] those who may be [illegible] similarly afflicted where a permanent relief [illegible] sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. [illegible] by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of self-pollution [illegible] in youth [illegible] body and mind [illegible] even the most ordinary avocations of life. I consulted many physicians, who [illegible] Dollars [illegible] and in several instances months of [illegible] unable to [illegible] my disease being [illegible] would be of little consequence. [illegible] with but a faint hope [illegible] examining my case [illegible] stands relieved [illegible] I [illegible] his directions and [illegible] pleasure to state, the [illegible] weakness of my limbs [illegible] body on the slightest [illegible] and evil foreboding [illegible] want of confidence to others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the hands of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this test[imony] to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco:

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April, A. D. 1856. Signed,

[L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 1856.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the rest of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you, which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the Incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became so (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger or enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

[L. S.] MEYER YABLONSKY.

State of California, county of San Francisco, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 1st day of August, A. D. 1856.

[L. S.] GILBERT A. GRANT, Notary Public.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical and Surgical Institute is on Sacramento st., below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco. The Doctor offers free consultation, and asks no remuneration unless he effects a cure. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

SPERMATORRHEA, or LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, lassitude, low spirits, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapability for labor and study, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affections of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual or other infirmities in man, are cured by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, Dr. L. J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, unknown to others, and hence the great success.

All consultations, by letter or otherwise, free.

Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D.
